All Municipalities	STATE MANDATE - Cost	Indeterminate	Indeterminate

Explanation

The bill will result in a cost to the state workers' compensation program of at least $17,000 annually from a 15% increase on certain radiology procedures.<sup>1</sup> Currently, reimbursement for the procedures listed in the bill range from $399 to $848 per procedure. The actual cost will depend on the services utilized by injured employees. The bill may result in a cost to the state Workers' Compensation Commission of up to $22,000 in FY 17 to update the hospital and physician fee schedules to reflect the increased radiology reimbursement rates. Currently, an outside vendor updates the fee schedules on an annual basis. The cost will depend on whether the vendor can update the schedules as a matter of normal practice or if it is considered an additional update to comply with the time frames in the bill. The hospital fee schedule was updated as of April 1st and the physician fee schedule was updated as of July 1st. There will be an annual revenue gain of $12,000 for the University of Connecticut Health Center from increasing radiology reimbursement within the workers' compensation program.

There will be a cost to municipal workers' compensation programs which will depend on the utilization of services by injured employees for self-insured plans. The cost to fully-insured municipal plans will be reflected in premiums for coverage effective after July 1, 2016.

The Out Years

The annualized ongoing fiscal impact identified above would continue into the future subject to the utilization of services by injured workers and any future impact on premiums for fully-insured municipalities.
